Dear Attorney General

I am writing to you because I believe you are the chief law enforcement authority in the United States of America. One important question that I would like you to address for me is how one is supposed to report criminal activity while they're unconscious beyond the period of the statute of limitations. I was forgotten in the nursing home since 2013 and have been trying to draw attention to my plight since I was discharged November 2019. I was the victim of an attempted murder and medical malpractice. I strongly believe that my coma was medically induced in an attempt to cheat my wife that I was a vegetable and so she should pull the plug on the life support machine. She refused after being warned by two independent doctors that she was being cheated because of her ignorance of how ventilators work. I also believe the nursing home is involved in Medicaid fraud that the FBI should investigate. There seems to be a coordinated effort to defraud the government using medical bills. This makes medical services expensive for everyone. I strongly believe that my mistreatments are characteristic of how black people are treated in the system. Their lives are casually taken by authorities and their complaints dismissed without investigating. Please note that I am unable to speak due to a medical procedure on my throat and email remains my only means of contact to the real world. So, I will attach communication I have sent others so you can fully understand my attempts. Please note that I was a Kenya citizen but I recently naturalized and became a citizen of the United States of America. The Kenya government is aware of my mistreatments and the international migration organization think I need to bring it to the attention of the American government. I sent an email to Congress but I don't know if it was received as there hasn't been any acknowledgement. The office of the secretary for Human and Health Services refers me to the same Medicaid office which I informed of the fraud more than a year ago. Please note also that I am the first person in the world to naturally recover from a brain infection with no known cure and thus investigating my case might help the country with the management of this infection. I contacted CDC but they don't examine individuals and so does NIH. My case demonstrates how racism applies in the medical field and what happens when insurance denies claims arguing that the condition is preexisting. I believe the insurance company violated the affordable care act. The cost of some of the medical equipment and services don't make sense to me. The cost of the medication cannot be explained by the delivery costs. I intend to file charges if I can find an attorney ,against the Ohio State Medical Center , the Ohio State University and

Whetstone Care Center. I am surprised that the Medicaid office in Columbus is not interested in Medicaid fraud. After over three years , I don't recognize my own children and skipped the entire high school for my son. I only recognize a few people on television, those appearing in 2013, not mentioning that I find the current programs strange. I was only discharged from the nursing home because of the involvement of the Disability Rights of Ohio. I am surprised that the Columbus Police consider Medicaid fraud my personal problem. I have tried to contact a number of news outlets in vain. The list includes : CNN, MSNBC, CBC, 10tv, WSX6, Columbus dispatch, USA Today and Washington journal. I sent an email to the producer of 60 minutes but never heard back. I also tried to contact the office of the governor and state attorney general, city attorney. I never heard back from the state medical and nursing boards, office of the governor and the office of the attorney general is not interested in the fraud. All the Law firms cite the statute of limitations and I think they are afraid of suing established firms and are using the law to conceal criminal activity. I have informed the Department of homeland security because I believe that the doctor has been killing unsuspecting patients who don't question his treatments. I believe that the FBI can uncover more murders that the doctor has committed. The webmaster at DOJ was kind enough to give me the contact of the FBI office in Cincinnati. I asked someone to call them on my behalf but after they took my information, I never heard back. I am being taken in cycles being asked to contact the Columbus Barr. A message from the Columbus Barr Association but a voice message states that they don't deal with my type of complaints. I tried to tell my story in a book but the publisher was only interested in the story and required payment upfront. I contacted the office of Congressman Joyce Betty to see if she can draw attention to my plight. I believe the FBI should investigate this case because it shows what racism does in the medical field . I still believe in justice in America despite my setbacks
